Training plans

Below are your beginner and intermediate training plans to help prepare you for the 15-mile route of The Banham Marsden March. You can adapt these guides to your current fitness level. Remember, do what's comfortable for you, at a pace that suits you.

Slow pace: one that you're comfortable with for a longer period.

Moderate pace: this is a little quicker, but you should still be able to maintain a conversation.

Fast pace: this is quicker still and would be difficult to maintain for extended periods.

You can choose days to suit you, although we recommend you take your recovery days following tough sessions, particularly the longer walks. Try to pick new and interesting routes with varying terrain to help keep you motivated.

The Royal Marsden Cancer Charity cannot take any responsibility for injuries, illnesses or accidents that may occur when following this guide. If you feel unsure or unwell, please stop and seek professional help immediately.
